Healing of the Disabled Woman

Moreover, in this infirm woman, it is like the figure of the Church which presents itself: when it has fulfilled the measure of the Law and of the resurrection, in this endless rest, raised to the summit of greatness, she will no longer be able to experience the curvature of our infirmity. And this woman could be healed only by means of the Law and grace: the Law by its precepts, in baptism the grace by which, dead to the world, we are resurrected for Christ; for in the ten words is the completion of the Law, in the number eight the fullness of the resurrection. So this work of a Sabbath signifies what will happen: whoever has fulfilled the Law and grace will be rid of the miseries of this crippled body through the mercy of Christ. This is why sanctification was first given in the figure by Moses, because the practice of future sanctification and spiritual observance was to abstain from works of the century. Even God rested from the works of the world: not of (all) works, since his activity is perpetual and continual, as the Son says: "My Father is still working now, and I too are acting" (Jn, V, 17), so that the example of God will cease for us the works of the world, not those of religion. It is for lack of understanding that the head of the Synagogue did not want anyone to be healed on the Sabbath, while the Sabbath is the image of future recreation? So it is not the good works, but the bad ones, which are idle? And that for this reason we are required to carry no burden, errors, and not being fasting, good works, to celebrate the sabbaths that will take place after death?

Twenty-fifth Sunday after Pentecost

In our Gospel reading for today, we find Christ in the synagogue. He was teaching there on the Sabbath day. He saw a woman who had been ill for 18 years. She was bent over. For 18 years, all she could look at was the ground. Christ showed her great compassion. He called to her. “Woman,” he said, “You are loosed from your illness.” He laid hands on the woman. St. Luke the Evangelist tells us that immediately she was made straight. And she glorified God.

This poor woman is so much like many of us in this life. Many people in the world are broken. They are bent over, so to speak, by the weight of living this life. They are bent over by life’s cares, sorrows, pressures. And even if we seem overwhelmed by our own cares – think of others. Think of those who might be worse off than we are. Think of the hungry, the naked, and the homeless. Think of mothers and fathers out of work. Human suffering is everywhere and throughout this earth. There are many in this world who are bent over with the infirmity that is their own lives.

Besides healing this woman Our Lord teaches us a valuable lesson. We witness that this act of healing of the poor bent woman was an act of love, an act of charity. Christ is telling the ruler of the synagogue and us that an act of love – can be done any time! This act of love done by Christ far transcends any law or any rule. This is a call for us to follow Christ in the same daring. We are called to dare to break away from our daily comforts and concerns. We are called to dare to reach out to those less fortunate. We are called to give and give, and give some more. We are called to give, as the expression goes, “until it hurts.” This is the way to follow Christ.

And for those among us who feel crushed and bent over by the cares and worries of this life? It is to Christ Himself that we must turn. It is only Christ who can straighten our backs. It is only Christ who can make us look, not at the ground, but up to the heavens. This time of preparation for the arrival of Christ at Christmas is a time to not only to be ashamed of our way of life that keeps us bent over. It is to prepare for the great rejoicing at the glorious things being done by God. He sends His Son to straighten our lives so that we can join Him in straightening others.

BCW editor note -by David Mayernik Jr.

Everyone loves Christmas carols and music, whether it be at church, on a vinyl record or CD, or over the radio or internet. Please consider writing a few sentences or a couple of paragraphs about a special memory connected with music at Christmas ... for example:

- Does your family have a tradition of singing a Christmas carol/song at a certain time every year?
- Do you have a favorite Christmas hymn/carol that's sung every year at your church?
- Are you a cantor and have led the congregation in Christmas Eve/Day Liturgy or taught ECF children Christmas carols?
- Did you ever go Christmas caroling around your neighborhood?
- Do you have a classic Christmas song (sung by Bing Crosby, Nat King Cole, Perry Como or anyone else) that gets you in the Christmas spirit or never fails to bring a tear to your eye?
- Did you teach your children/grandkids/nieces/nephews to play a Christmas song on the piano?

Those are some ideas I hope will spark a memory you can share with the BCW. Please get back to me by December 8th. And if you have any photos to go with your memory, please don't hesitate to send those, also! Please send memories and photos to: bcw@archpitt.org. Also, let me know what church you attend.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR THE SEASON

1. Thou shalt remember to keep Christ in Christmas.
2. Thou shalt pause in thy business to consider the magnitude of God's gift of Christ to mankind.
3. Thou shalt remember that Mary and Joseph found no room in the inn, and remembering, give Christ the chief room in thy heart.
4. Thou shalt participate joyfully in all of the pre-Christmas and Christmas liturgical services in thy church.
5. Thou shalt be of generous heart in answering the appeals of the needy at Christmas time.
6. Thou shalt take time to plan for the happiness of those outside thine own circle of family and friends.
7. Thou shalt enjoy, in unhurried calm, the priceless heritage of Christmas carols and great Christmas art.
8. Thou shalt give of thyself in all thy gifts, giving not for duty, reciprocity, or personal satisfaction, but for the simple joy of sharing.
9. Thou shalt remember, with patience and understanding, all those who serve thee...the sales people, the postal and delivery people, the news carriers and all others who bear the physical burden of the holiday season.
10. Thou shalt teach thy children the true meaning of Christmas, of the Prince of Peace who came to show us a way to righteousness and happiness.
