I was Hungry

You see, my beloved, there is no excuse for it. They knew what they had to do in this world. But greed and ill-will prevented them, so they laid up for themselves not treasures for the future but the world of the dead. Neither were they condemned because of the active wrong they did, nor did the Lord say to them: depart from me, you wicked, because you committed murder or adultery or theft. But instead: because I was hungry and thirsty in my servants, and you did not minister to me. If those who did no wrong are thus condemned, what must be said of those who do the works of the devil? Will not the prophecy of blessed David come upon them: "The wicked will not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous?" Not that they will not rise, but that neither in judgment [nor in] the congregation of the righteous do they deserve to enter. They will stand, however, so that from punishment they may enter into punishment." And they will go into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life." Whatever will be is everlasting. Sinners will have everlasting punishment; and the righteous, everlasting life.

St. Epiphanius the Latin

Do you wish to honor the body of Christ? Do not ignore Him when He is naked. Do not pay Him homage in the temple clad in silk, only then to neglect Him outside where He is cold and ill-clad. He who said: "This is my body" is the same who said: "You saw me hungry and you gave me no food" and, "Whatever you did to the least of my brothers you did also to me." ... What good is it if the Eucharistic table is overloaded with golden chalices when your brother is dying of hunger? Start by satisfying his hunger and then with what is left you may adorn the altar as well.

Sunday of the Last Judgment - Meatfare Sunday

A couple, vacationing in Maine, visited the harbor to watch the boats return from fishing and trapping lobsters. One lobster boat docked near where they sat and unloaded buckets of freshly trapped lobsters. The wife became intrigued as she watched the lobsters scurry about in a bucket. She noticed that as soon as one lobster began to climb its way out of the pail, the other lobsters would pull it back down. It seemed to her that it would have been fairly easy for each lobster to escape from the bucket, except that they always were being pulled back down by the others.

Lobsters certainly can teach us about human nature as well. Doesn't it seem that as soon as one person decides to climb out of the "bucket," there are so many others trying to pull him or her back down? Rather, shouldn't we try to support and push the other person farther along.

Let us look at the icon of the Last Judgment. The icon depicts people traveling from earth to heaven on a ladder. Can we see ourselves on the ladder? Let us ask ourselves: do we push our neighbor further up the ladder to Heaven, or do we pull him down...

In the Gospel reading today, Jesus speaks of our obligation to assist other people in every need. Moreover, Our Lord tells us that whatever we do to others we do to Him. Conversely, if we neglect others, we neglect Our Lord. "Whatever you do to the least of my brothers, you do to me." (Matthew 25:40)

God desires a fast which quickens the heart and makes it sensitive to the plight of one's neighbor. He calls for a fast which demonstrates love for the neighbor whom we can see so that we can better love God we cannot see.

Our preparation for the Great Fast-Lent should be done in a spirit of love and gratitude with a desire to give of ourselves and love others just as God loves us. It should reflect a move away from self-preoccupation toward gratitude to God and love for our neighbor. The fasting God want from us should reflect changed hearts which love God and neighbor.

What is meant by 'Fašengy'?

Before the start of The Great Fast (Lent), it was customary to hold "Fašengy," which is the festival of merrymaking observed with feasting, dancing, and jocular revelry. Typically, this shrovetide celebration took the form a carnival. Occasionally, the Fašengy was held in conjunction with a large formal dance known as a fašengovyj ball. This was thus the last occasion for public mirth, lightheartedness, and innocent fun prior to the start of Lent.

Civic Club meeting next Sunday

The St. Michael's Civic Club will have a meeting next Sunday, February 19th at 7:30 p.m. in the Hall bar room. Reminder, the club is open to all parishioners.

Every Wednesday and Friday during the Great Fast are Simple Abstinence (no meat). If you cannot fulfill these mandated requirements, a dispensation is needed from our pastor to avoid sin. There is no age limit no more.

Preparing for Lenten Fasting.... During these Pre-Lenten Sundays, a new recipe will be in the bulletin if you would like to consider for your Lenten meals. Remember, The Great Fast begins on February 20, 2023.

Stuffed Shells

This is a delicious, versatile, and easy casserole to have for special occasions that come up during a fast!

Ingredients

- 1 cup raw cashews, soaked overnight, then drained, if you can
- 2 cloves of garlic
- 3 Tbsp lemon juice
- 2 Tbsp nutritional yeast
- ½ tsp salt
- Dash of black pepper
- 1 block of extra firm tofu, drained
- 1 medium onion, peeled and finely diced
- ½ cup finely chopped fresh parsley, basil or other herbs, as desired.
- 1 lb box of Jumbo Shells (or Lasagne Noodles), boiled and drained
- 1 quart of your favorite pasta sauce.

Preparation

Boil and drain your pasta and allow to cool as you prepare the filling. In a skillet over medium high heat, sauté the onion in a tablespoon of water until translucent and just beginning to brown, then remove from heat and transfer to your food processor or blender, along with the garlic, lemon juice, yeast, salt and pepper, tofu and parsley, and mix well. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Pour 1/3 of the pasta sauce into a pyrex baking pan. Begin to stuff your shells, placing them in a single layer in the sauce. Once they are all stuffed, place one spoonful of the mozzarella sauce on top of each shell. Pour the rest of the pasta sauce over the entire casserole and bake, uncovered at 350 degrees for one hour.

Garnish with more chopped parsley or basil before serving.

Variations

To make Lasagne: substitute lasagna noodles, and layer the casserole as usual, beginning with the pasta sauce, then a layer of noodles, a layer of ricotta, a layer of mozzarella, then repeat, starting again with the sauce. You can add extra layers of sautéed vegetables like spinach, mushrooms, or zucchini if you like, as well.

To make Eggplant Rollatini: Just swap out the noodles and bring in some peeled eggplant (or even zucchini!), thinly sliced lengthwise and salted for about half an hour or so to release some of the moisture. Just place each slice on a towel-lined baking sheet and salt each side liberally. Place another baking sheet on top, then a heavy skillet or other object on top of that, to add some weight. In about half an hour you will see the moisture has come out of the slices and they become pliable. Rinse off the excess salt and use as you would lasagna noodles, make rollatini by spreading the filling onto a slice of eggplant and rolling it up! Place each slice in the pan and top each one with a spoonful of mozzarella, then the rest of the sauce, and bake, just as you would the shells.

To make Stuffed Portobellos: You can use the large caps, or even some smaller ones for this recipe. Brush and clean the gills from the mushrooms and remove their stems. (Don't waste the stems! You can chop them and add them to the onions in the skillet when you prepare the filling!) Stuff the caps and place them into the baking pan. Spoon the mozzarella over the top before baking; the tomato sauce is optional.

To make Chili Rellenos: You can add a little chopped jalapeno and some taco seasoning to the sautéed onions in the Cashew Ricotta filling (or not...your call!). Stuff halves of pablano peppers and cover with a dollop of Cashew Mozzarella and a bit of prepared salsa instead of the pasta sauce. Bake as usual.
