Twelve Years

When the woman with a hemorrhage learned that the Lord said to the leader of the synagogue, "Believe, and your daughter will live," she thought to herself that he who could bring back the soul of a little girl of twelve into her body would also be able to take away an illness of twelve years and expel it from the body. When she heard him say, "Believe firmly and your daughter will live," this woman reflected, "I can give the faith he requires as the price." The healing came forth from his mouth, and he negotiated as its price the faith expressed by the woman's mouth. He gave clear healing and demanded a clear price. The healing that came out from his lips could be heard publicly, and he required from the lips a faith openly professed. Although the woman professed before everyone, they did not believe her, especially since her pains were hidden. When the Lord opened the eyes of the blind man, they called him a madman, and when he restored Lazarus to life, certain people, even among those who had seen for themselves, did not believe. This is why he restored the little girl of twelve years to life. He who was able to put the continued vitality of twelve years in the body back into its place was also able to arrest and banish from its place a flow of blood that continued for twelve years. He who was able to alleviate one illness was also able to banish another. He who was able to vivify all the dead members of this little girl was also able to heal the woman's womb.

Preparation

What would you do if you met God? Would you praise Him? Would you bless Him? Would you thank Him for the beautiful gift of life? Would you humble yourself in His presence? Or would you curse Him or reject Him because you see your life as unfair? Would you treat Him with the disdain and scorn that perhaps you show your relatives or even pastor or friends, colleagues, and neighbors? What would you ask Him? What would you tell Him?

It seems that, if most of us were to encounter our Lord, we would have a much different attitude than our day-to-day selves. Perhaps we would be more open, honest, and contrite. Perhaps we would be more appreciative and loving.

Next Saturday, we begin the 40 fast in preparation to greet our Lord in the Flesh on the Great Feast of the Nativity. Let us begin to take inventory of ourselves and our souls. Let us prepare a list—not for Santa—but of the things we would say to our Lord, the things we would do, or perhaps the things we should do. Let us also not forget that, each time we enter a church, we encounter God. Each time we receive the Eucharist, we invite God into our bodies and souls. Each time we interact with others, bask in the nature of our world, lay silently in our beds at night, we are in God's presence. Fasting preparations are not just for a short period of time: they are to prepare us for everyday living. Our faith is transformative, but we must be open to this transformation. We must be open to change. As we prepare to begin our Nativity Fast on November 15th, let us think about what we would say and do in the presence of our Eternal God as we anticipate encountering Him at his birth on December 25th, for our entire lives are a preparation for meeting our Creator face to face in all His glory.
